

Rescue Workers Spurred to Furious Effort By Escape of Two Miners

Men Tell Dramatic Story of Successful Fight for Life While Rescue Crews Brave Cases in Effort to Reach Buried Comrades.

DAWSON, N. M., Feb. 9.—Up to 2:45 o'clock Friday afternoon eight bodies had been recovered from the Phelps-Dodge corporation Mine No. 1 where 122 men were entombed by an explosion Thursday. Two men have escaped from the mine alive and 112 miners still are in the mine. All of the men within the mine, according to the belief of company officials, are dead.

At two o'clock Thursday two men had emerged alive from the wrecked mine at that hour and four dead bodies had been recovered by rescue crews working in good air as the fan had been set up Thursday night. This leaves 116 out 122 men still in the mine either dead or alive. There were 140 men checked in the mine on shift Thursday morning but 18 checked out during the day.

Rescue crews have worked all night and were one mile and a half in Friday morning, according to announcement from the mine. The rescue crews were supplied by the stricken camp itself with some volunteers from neighboring New Mexico camps. The Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. dispatched its rescue car with apparatus in charge of George Parker to Dawson.

It was said that watchers about the mine entertained hope that other men would be found alive in the mine.

City School Notes.

The assembly meeting was held in Mr. Torres' and Miss Elden's rooms.

RANK LAND FRAUDS WERE PERPETRATED ON INDIANS, COLONEL TWITCHELL SAYS

(Continued from last week)
ARGUES BILL ONLY WAY

NM Mine File No. 473

HEADS AT

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 9.—Isabel Eckles, state school superintendent, today issued meeting of city and school intendents and heads of institutions to be held 14 and 15 to meet the relative committee charging up a school code. The meeting will open February 14 at 8 a. m.

Miss Eckles also announced that the eighth grade examination will be given, the first on February 23 and the second on February 27.

MASONS HOLD WORK MEETING, INI

One of the most successful meetings held by the lodge was that of when no less than 56 visitors were present conferring the A. F. degree on A. C. Jot Johnston, and T. Work started promptly at eight o'clock, and continued until eight o'clock, when taken in order that tend a dinner given at the Verde hotel.

There were visitors from San Marcel, and Albuquerque.

Coming—"The Wally Reid."

4. That the Government entitle the Pueblos the naming of legal recent their interest them as heretofore Government lawyer

LE BOARD JEWELL REGENTS

7. - Gov. Hinkle the following separate for con-

Cattle Sanitary (aynor, East Las Roswell; Magdalena; H. J. City; T. J. Ross, M. O'Donel Bell members of the Board to be ap- term ending 1925, date of confirmathe Board of Re- w Mexico Military Charlotte -No De vell; E. A. Cahoon. W. Pue, Roswell, Roswell; Hiram M. or a term of four date of confirma-

h School Notes

u pick on some one is the query pro- panegyric in the an on the Socorro ly four years ago the kindergarten. calamity referred to de episode was so that it hardly bears think that some of s who were enter- the boys at their occasion, should with them at the Use their own dis- om, they wish to gain Mrs. Snyder

BASKETBALL TEAM ARE GRATEFUL TO DAWSON

chool of Mines basketball returned from their north- with highest praise of treatment extended number of the towns visited, especially grateful to the Dawson, where they were received and entertained

Murray, a former S. of ent, who not only did the aces to perfection, but ac- the boys much valuable tion in their line of busi- taking them through the ound workings of a num- Phelps-Dodge mines.

nation as to the where- of my bulldog puppy; white feet and face, will ly appreciated and suitable will be paid.

B. H. Kinney.

anything. Picture frames Lock and key work a All kinds of repairing attended to. Call J. R. hone 101.

ements. These are being with new mains as fast as ed.

ugh the fall from the o the city is more than ndred feet it is impossible- water system to furnish fire protection while the re in their present clogged n. To cite one instance, mber 10th, 1922, at 1:00 when the Chambon estate ehonse burned, costing the t Julius Campredon and ers, the entire water sup- ie city was turned into one l the hose company had ough water for ONE line of hose, reaching from the f the city plaza to the rear inkler hotel. It will con- be impossible to deliver

The Sad Final Chapter of the Dawson Disaster

Dawson, N. M., Feb. 10.—The saddest part of the Dawson mine disaster in which 60 are known dead and hope practically abandon- ed for 60 others still in the mine, came to light Saturday when the Phelps Dodge corpora- tion, owners of the mine, compiled a list of dependents of the dead miners and prepared to supply them with food and clothing.

Following is the list of known dead:

Harry Morrison, Cherryvale, N. M., widow and six children.

Earl Graves, Cherryvale, N. M., widow and four children.

Albert E. English, Dawson, widow and six children, including son killed in blast.

John Wilson, Gardner, N. M., widow and three children.

Clifton E. Bates, Plainview, Tex., widow and two children.

Ben H. Mullins, Dawson, one child.

Julian Dominguez, Las Vegas, N. M., widow and three children.

E. C. Fimple, Texico, N. M., widow and three children.

Panfilo Cordova, Los Angeles, widow and two children.

Cruz Rodriguez, Carthage, N. M., widow and two children.

Peter Kapich, Pueblo, Colo., widow and one child.

Fermin Gallegos, Koehler, N. M., widow and one child.

Austin Green, Texico, N. M., widow and one child.

Carl Duke, Albuquerque, N. M., widow and one child.

W. R. Holmes, Roy, N. M., widow and one child.

Alec Kerr, Dawson, widow and one child.

Wm. H. Lawson, Dawson, widow and one child.

Floryan Papis, Rockville, Colo., widow and six children.

Manuel De La Luz, Dawson, widow and five children.

Gios Marschino, Dawson, widow and five children.

Jose Macetas, Dawson, widow and four children.

Rode Marieich, Dawson, widow and four children.

Alonso Cartazar, Dawson, widow and four children.

Gregorio Duran, Dawson, widow and three children.

Andre Gonzales, Dawson, widow and three children.

Luigi Brussili, Dawson, widow and three children.

Antonio Scantilis, Dawson, widow and three children.

Odorino Gaddi, Dawson, widow and two children.

Frank Nardini, Dawson, widow and two children.

Ieadore Gomez, Dawson, widow and two children.

Al Trujillo, Dawson, widow and two children.

Fred Trujillo, Dawson, widow and two children.

Higinio Herrera, Dawson, widow and one child.

Julian Archuleta, Dawson, one child.

Miguel Rosales, Dawson, widow and one child.

Leandro Gonzales, Dawson, widow and one child.

Best News All Over Mexico d Arizona

T. Rob. Tamm has returned from sending in custody Louis Tren-Chaves-Jones, that escaped from the last part of the latter part of Dec. 15 and Tren and 20th.

has authorized the ex-1,000 in improvements facilitate the movement over valley cantaloupe am includes extension at Glendale and connecting dock 1,000 feet ch twenty-five freight led at one time.

a statement of Prager t of the New Mexico Association, the prom-owers during the com-bright. In most places good condition in spite season, and recent will do much to bring a to normal during the jury returned a verdict t George W. Stevenson reulosis. Stevenson's nds for eight days aft-consciousness held to he was in a state of nation and refused to body for burial until an performed under orders ner Fred C. Boien.

e in Arizona during the eded the mortality rate ling to a statistical re- the State Board of ade public at Phoenix. ws that 6,628 children ing the year and that nbered 4,006. The re- lled by Mrs. Ruth W. r statistician for the d at $40,000 to $60,000. rnk from Chicago to , recently by Mrs. A. licago, were missing k when it reached its ording to a report to fice at Phoenix. Ac- report, the trunk was gage from Chicago to the men who had served in the World War were wrapped in the Stars and

CAUSE OF MINE BLAST UNKNOWN

SEVENTY OF DAWSON DEAD ARE BURIED WITH SIMPLER CEREMONY.

MINERS ARE BURIED

DEATH LIST IN MINE DISASTER
EXPECTED TO TOTAL ONE HUNDRED TWENTY.

Dawson, N. M. — The shattered depths of Dawson mine No. 1 had given up seventy dead and two living. Within the subterranean tomb fifty miners still remain. It is more than a reasonable certainty that all have perished, according to officials.

Bathed in the warm rays of a dazzling sun, Dawson set about the task of burying her dead. The rough pine boxes, carrying all that was mortal of those whose lives were snuffed out in the disaster, were borne through the main street of the town, out along the winding rustic trail to the peaceful, cross-bedecked hillside, which is to be their last resting place.

A small knot of men idled around the entrance to the mine waiting for more bodies to be brought out. A huge crowd surged against the ropes which barred them from the mine mouth. In the crowd were many women and children. As in the other days since the blast, they are dry-eyed, unemotional and quiet.

Touching scenes were enacted in the little Catholic church of Dawson and at the graveside. It was there, apparently that the full realization of the enormity of their loss smote for the first time many of those who have been too stunned by the explosion to betray their sorrow.

In a few brief words of comfort, Father Joseph Couerier and a visiting priest sought to assuage the pain of the people left behind, as the last rites of the church were administered to their loved ones.

In Protestant homes the last rites were simple.

Dawson's soldier dead were buried with such military services as possible in the emergency. The coffins of the men who had served in the World War were wrapped in the Stars and

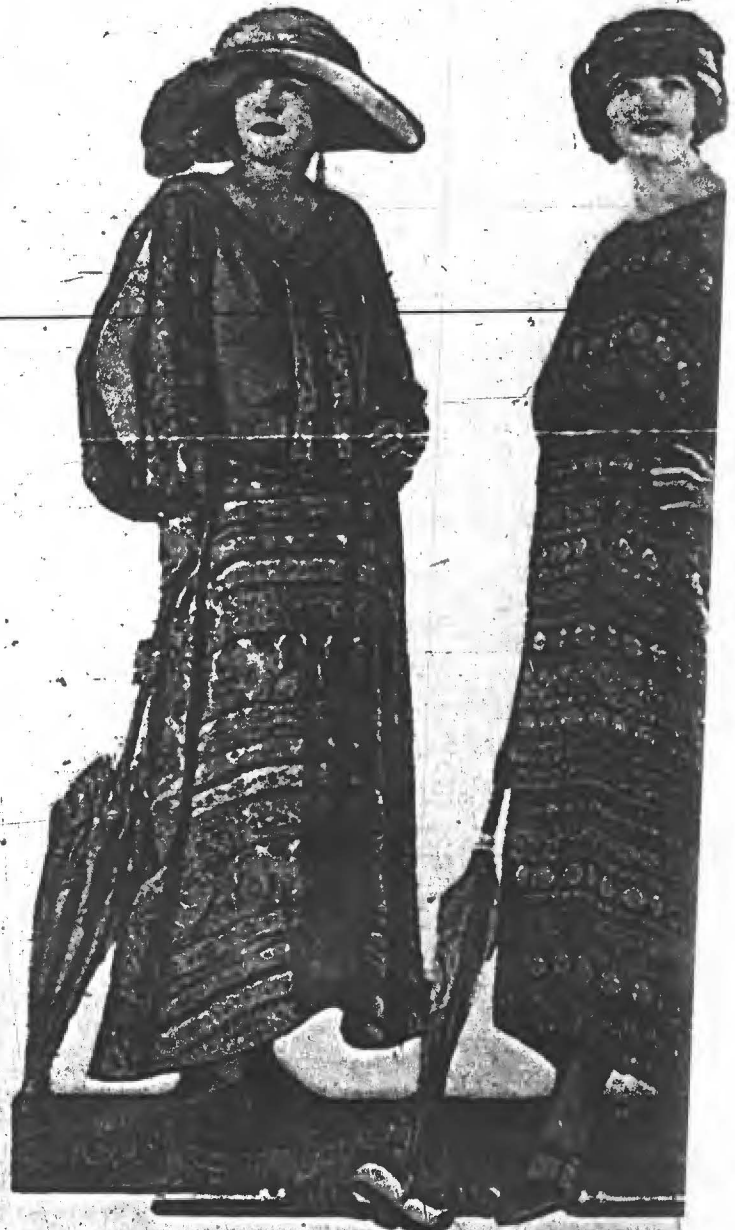

Have Touch of the Orient;

Knitted Modes for S

PARIS continues to sponsor style ideas from the East and has added to them inspirations from Egypt, following the wonderful findings there of rich treasures in jewelry and other belongings of buried kings and queens. America appears to be following this oriental lead with enthusiasm, although few women have entire gowns made of printed fabrics in oriental patterns, but they are keen for blouses, millinery and accessories.

Not all the Paisley and cashmere designs may be properly classed as high

If you are in a rage with the at your display, wool knit suits and girdled with belt or lustrous blue silk, ming details are carrying color. It is greater effectiveness and colored wool suits and the girdle blouse silk is very handsome. Plaids, stripes, Navy blue, interknitted of a stitch wool is very at of the New Mexico Association, the promoters during the combright. In most places good condition in spite y season, and recent will do much to bring k to normal during the jury returned a verdict at George W. Stevenson creulosis. Stevenson's ends for eight days aft consciousness held to t he was in a state of mation and refused to body for burial until an performed under orders oner Fred C. Bolen.

te in Arizona during the eeded the mortality rate eding to a statistical re by the State Board of ande public at Phoenix. ows that 6,223 children ring the year and that umbered 4,006. The re plied by Mrs. Ruth W. ner statistician for the ied at $40,000 to $500,000. trunk from Chicago to iz., recently by Mrs. A. Chicago, were missing nk when it reached its according to a report to office at Phoenix. Ac e report, the trunk was aggage from Chicago to was hauled from Phoenix by truck.

ttton, a rancher, paid $25 pleasure he may have de lassing Robert Stout. cording to testimony at s driving a herd of cattle ngo. The herd was giving ouble and, somehow, Brat his lariat around Stout's t said he was roped be fused to help Bratton with . Clark, war veteran of o recently became heir to sand acres of choice ranch ag and a bequest of $10, rhaps fatally injured at M. Clark, it is believed. ed to beat his way to Har fo., to claim his inher was found near the rail at Deming, suffering from skull.

s Montezuma, a graduate tern University, and for a practicing physician at as buried at Fort McDow Indian post near Phoenix. y of the historical wars of were waged. Dr. Monte a full-blooded Apache, and tribal custom of the race d in impressive services ned throughout Saturday ished according to officials.

Bathed in the warm rays of a daz zling sun, Dawson set about the task of burying her dead. The rough pine boxes, carrying all that was mortal of those whose lives were snuffed out in the disaster, were borne through the main street of the town, out along the winding rustic trail to the peaceful, cross-bedecked hillside, which is to be their last resting place.

A small knot of men idled around the entrance to the mine waiting for more bodies to be brought out. A huge crowd surged against the ropes which barred them from the mine mouth. In the crowd were many women and children. As in the other days since the blast, they are dry-eyed, unemotional and quiet.

Touching scenes were enacted in the little Catholic church of Dawson and at the graveside. It was there, apparently that the full realization of the enormity of their loss smote for the first time many of those who have been too stunned by the explosion to betray their sorrow.

In a few brief words of comfort, Father Joseph Couerier and a visiting priest sought to assuage the pain of the people left behind, as the last rites of the church were administered to their loved ones.

In Protestant homes the last rites were simple.

Dawson's soldier dead were buried with such military services as possible in the emergency. The coffins of the men who had served in the World War were wrapped in the Stars and Stripes.

Each grave will be marked with a simple cross bearing the name of the occupant. Adjoining the burial plot of Thursday's disaster are more than 20 graves of Dawson men who died when Stag Canon Mine No. 2 was wrecked by an explosion in 1913.

Regular shifts of more than fifty men worked inside the mine. In several instances bodies have been found to be deeply buried in debris. Others are visible beyond piles of rocks and coal and will be brought out as soon as passageways have been cleared for the stretcher-bearers.

Daniel Harrington, supervising engineer of the United States bureau of mines, after a journey through the damaged mine, declared his search had revealed nothing to indicate what was responsible for the blast.

"The mine shows the usual wrecked condition of a mine after an explosion," he declared.

Plan 200,000 Bushel Elevator.

St. Louis, Mo.—Incorporation papers for the Missouri Pacific Elevator Company with a paid up capital of $500,000, were filed here by the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company. The railroad plans the erection here of a grain elevator with a capacity of 2,000,000 colored. Some of them are subdued and all of them rich and pleasing. They are at their best in soft, sheer goods like georgette or other crepe weaves and are handsome in light wool as well as silk, challie proving a fine medium for them. The frock at the left has a plain crepe-satin bodice and skirt of printed silk.

Picturesque Afternoon Dresses.

Black, introduced in the sleeves and in an underslip of crepe-back satin, serves as a foil for the intricately patterned, many-colored printed silk that handsome suit he French toast col ecru stripes knitt separate slip-on.

Beyond descript of the all-white knitted suits or slender silhouette, very moment a Palm Beach and ter resorts. Man all-over embroide by intermingling

